What Courses Do Most Students Take?
I strongly recommend that you take Business Enterprise. Regardless of whether you are interested in litigation or a transactional practice, a lawyer needs to understand how businesses are organized, governed, sue and are sued. Evidence is another class that most students take and that I strongly recommend. Income Tax is also an important class. All lawyers need sensitivity to tax issues that can affect their clients. You don’t need to be a tax lawyer, but you do need to know when you need a tax lawyer or accountant in a transaction or in structuring a settlement, etc.
